CTPark Nýřany

Strong automotive and industrial cluster

The Nýřany region forms one of West Bohemia’s most dynamic industrial zones, shaped by a strong presence of automotive, engineering, logistics, and advanced manufacturing companies. The area benefits from a long-standing industrial tradition and a deep pool of skilled workers coming from Plzeň and surrounding towns. Technical secondary schools and the University of West Bohemia further reinforce the region’s talent pipeline, providing graduates with expertise in mechanical engineering, electrical engineering, IT, and production technologies. Thanks to this combination of industrial heritage, modern specialization, and workforce stability, businesses in Nýřany can rely on a highly capable and dependable labour market.

- ▶ On the highway D5 (exit 93) connecting Prague and Rozvadov

Strategic location and connectivity

CTPark Nýřany is strategically located along the D5 highway, just 12 km west of Plzeň and 56 km from the German border. This prime position ensures excellent transport connections for cross-border logistics, light manufacturing, and automotive supply chain operations, offering direct access to Germany and Prague. The Plzeň Region's strong industrial base, combined with efficient motorway links and proximity to major hubs such as Regensburg, Nuremberg, and Munich, makes Nýřany an ideal location for companies seeking to grow within Central Europe's highly developed industrial corridor.
